Paddy Separator SMAZI

The Zaccaria STAINLESS STEEL LINE is growing up! Zaccaria presents the new Paddy Separator, model SMAZI-1 (single) and SMAZ-2 (double).

The parts in contact with rice are manufactured with this noble metal.

The separation takes place on the surface of stainless steel sheets which feature indents of adequate configuration. The high production capacity and efficiency is only possible due to different physical properties in the paddy and brown rice (such as specific gravity and length), coupled with a complex movement of the trays and an exclusive product distribution system developed by Zaccaria.

FEATURES

- Welded structure ensures lightness and rigidity
- Zaccaria rice distribution system on trays ensures high production with maximum efficiency
- Parts in contact with rice completely manufactured in stainless steel, providing higher durability
- Upper and lower sensors ensure constant product feeding
- Remotely charge adjustment, making the operation easily and safely
- Spare parts (bearings and belts) easily found in the market
- Easy adjustment of the outlets.
